

MISSION BRIEFING

FOR YOUR EYES ONLY

CLASSIFICATION: ULTRAVIOLET

Starfleet Command has authorised the Intelligence Directorate to enter into an alliance with other like-minded organisations in order to thwart a plan by hostile agents to detonate an explosive device at this conference.

Your basic mission briefing will be provided by Agent B of The Agency. We recommend that you pay attention to everything this agent may say, but you should be aware that his motives may not match those of the Directorate, Starfleet or the United Federation of Planets.

Our intelligence indicates that our enemy here is the Romulan Tal Shiar. Our analysts believe that that they are trying to acquire an example of Precursor technology. If they fail to achieve this, we believe they will try to destroy it.

Your primary objectives are to identify this artefact and deny access to it to the Tal Shiar. Your secondary objective is to acquire this item for analysis and possible deployment by Starfleet.

You should seek to achieve these objectives by any and all means available to you, but you must not break cover unless it is essential to your mission. Use all resources available to you including intelligence supplied to you throughout the mission, sympathetic conference delegates and any other secondary information sources.

It goes without saying that you must ensure that neither the Prime Directive nor the Temporal Prime Directive is broken in the course of this mission.
